

AureLisa One-Pager to Philanthropy

Are you a philanthropist? Then you may be interested in the AureLisa promises enumerated here especially for you. Proper backing for each point is by now abundantly available in scientific and other publications (books, articles, blogs, white paper, etc.). We are deadly serious. If you are too, please let us know. You find this text in pdf.

AureLisa aims to contribute significantly:

- to prove (through real-world evidence) the much stronger than assumed influence of the mind on the body, filling huge gaps in causal understanding of many health conditions.
- to thereby be the first to prove fully quantitatively the influence of the mind on epilepsy, heart infarctions, Alzheimer, some infectious diseases... and enter medical history books.
- to simultaneously mend such mind-related health problems (including burnout, chronic pain, addictions, overall at least 30% of all health problems) using straightforward Internet tools: 200+ AurelisOnLine mental sessions already available, A.I.-driven coach-bot Lisa in development, etc.
- to thus pragmatically realize the consequences of basic neurocognitive science that increasingly emphasizes subconceptual (mostly non-conscious) processing, leading to an overdue, human-centered paradigm shift.
- to be fully integrated into scientific medical practice, thereby also relieving the professional burden on GPs and many kinds of specialists.
- to enhance Evidence-Based Medicine toward better medical science relevant to real life.
- to bring more Compassion to many sociocultural issues in a realistic way, based on science as never before, starting from 'the pain' and leading to mental growth.
- to realize a replicable alternative (not therapy- but growth-oriented) to psychotherapeutic conceptual methodologies which hardly work, if at all — as robustly proved in tons of replicable science.
- to foster the growth of an intercultural community based on Compassionate relations through the judicious use of social media in 20 languages and a website hub (DailyTwinkles).
- to bring good \(Compassionate\) A.I. to save us from bad A.I. This will be needed soon enough. Thus, the time to act is now.
- to bring AureLisa products and services for free to those who cannot afford them, eventually globally.
- to build a robust company through Lisa subscriptions and B2B products and services.
- to realistically promote and support Open \(Compassionate\) Leadership with a huge top-down impact complementing the bottom-up from many individuals.

We start with chronic pain. 1.5 billion people on Earth have this issue despite all pain relief. The AureLisa promise is to be able in due time to bring at least some durable relief at a low cost to most of them and intense relief to many. After chronic pain, we go for many other issues.
